Public seminar series 2018-2019

Salle Polyvalente/Duyckaerts, B32, 14h

October 9
- Bruno Rossion (Université de Lorraine & CNRS): Human expertise in face recognition

November 13
- Jérôme Prado (Institut des Sciences Cognitives Marc Jeannerod - CNRS): The neural basis of transitive reasoning and its relationship with math learning

December 11
- Olivier Collignon (UCL): Crossmodal plasticity: Recycling pre-existing neural and computational architecture?

Janvier 8
- Nikolai Axmacher (Ruhr-Universität Bochum): Engram patterns as a window to stimulus-specific memory representations

February 12
- Fabienne Collette (ULiège): Changes in neural structures explaining executive abilities in healthy aging

March 12
- Bob French (Université de Bourgogne – Franche-Comté): What connectionist autoencoder models can tell us about cognition

June 11
- Alain Van Hiel (UGent): The psycho-political profile of traditionalist and extreme right-wing voters